MEETING REPORTS

Note: Handouts from lectures and classes are filed at our joint library with the LDS FHC

Dan Fantore, Certified Genealogical Records Specialist, spoke at the February 24, 2008 meeting about Breaking Down Genealogical Brick Walls. He can be reached at dfantore@aol.com.

Brick walls can be caused by immigration and movement of the problem ancestor, early deaths, second marriages, adoption, unknown maiden names, language differences, ethnic group challenges, or lack of easily available records.

His first suggestion is to join the Brick Walls Email news list at rootsweb.com. Articles and books about brick walls will offer suggestions. Your brick wall may be just a tough research challenge. You need to change your attitude, and put the brick wall on the front burner.

Evidence evaluation may help you to clarify wrong suppositions, and correct inaccurate family information and misspellings. Try a three step process:

1. Decide what you want to know.
2. Find a source that answers your question.
3. Evaluate the evidence that was found. What did it tell you?

Learn the foreign language, try non-census information such as church records, use libraries or Family History Centers, pay others, send Emails, join newsgroups, or post queries on the web. Write letters, or ask for help. Find experts on your locality, surname or challenge.

Try listing what you already know by creating a chronology, and listing the sources next to the facts. What resources have you used? What resources have you not used, and why?

Use resources in your research locality via travel, USGenWeb, Random Acts of Genealogical Kindness (ROAGK), interlibrary loan, or hiring a local professional.

Consider new evidence with an open mind. Just because they weren't in the index does not mean they weren't in the record. Search using first name only, age, birthplace, or likely misspellings. Think of how the handwriting could be interpreted, especially letters easily mistaken for another.

Test every hypothesis or theory against credible evidence, and reject those that are not supported by the evidence. Creating a hypothesis leads to direction.

The Genealogical Proof Standard requires researchers to conduct a reasonably exhaustive search in reliable sources for all information that is or may be pertinent, regardless of whether the problem is simple or complex, and includes appropriately broadening the search beyond the person, family, event, or record of most-direct impact on the project.

Elizabeth Shown Mills is an excellent source of information. From her book, Evidence! Citation & Analysis for the Family Historian, comes this suggestion, "All known records should be used and a thorough effort made to identify unknown materials." - Marcia McCrary

The April 6, 2008, meeting focused on libraries. Irene Martin spoke about the Toledo-Lucas County Public Library, which is located at 325 Michigan Street, Toledo. The Local History and Genealogy Department is on the 3rd floor and is open Monday through Thursday from 9 A.M. to 9 P.M., Friday and Saturday from 9 A.M. to 5:30 P.M., and Sunday from 1 P.M. to 5:30 P.M. The website is www.toledolibrary.org.

The Main Library is fortunate to be home to the Blade Rare Book Room, a climate-controlled room that is home to rare, precious and fragile materials. The value, condition, and format of the materials housed in The Blade Rare Book Room requires certain security procedures be followed when using the collection. Use of the material may require an appointment in advance.

A Name Index was started in 1940, and includes indexes to books, both local and national, and newspapers. The Blade Obituary Index covers 1837 to present. A WPA Project from the 1930s indexed some years of newspapers around the 1930s. An online Blade index is available for 1996 forward.

The Toledo City and Suburban Directory Collection begins with the first city directory in 1858. Beginning in 1957 there are suburban directories for areas such as Maumee, Sylvania and Oregon, and from the 1920s, directories for Maumee and Sylvania.

Other collections include newspapers (72 titles); the Ohio Collection of county histories and other materials; census on microfilm for Ohio, Michigan, and other nearby states; military records; family histories; maps and atlases, including some Sanborn Maps for Toledo; passenger lists; scrapbooks; manuscript collections; photograph collections; Lucas County Auditor Block Cards with pictures of houses; Images in Time; oral histories; cemetery records; church information; microfilm of government records; Common Pleas and Probate Court records; births from 1867 to 1908; and much more.

The garage off Adams Street allows free parking for the first hour.

Several local librarians shared information on the genealogically useful resources available at their libraries.

Nancy B. Johnson is the Director of the Brighton District Library. Their web address is www.brightonlibrary.info.

The Brighton Room Collection houses local history and genealogy. Materials such as phone books, Polk Directories, and high school year books, cemetery transcriptions compiled by the Genealogy Society, maps and atlases, newspapers on microfilm and in print, a news clipping file, scrapbooks, and City Council minutes can all be found here. The genealogy books include handbooks, family histories and videos, and magazines such as DSGR, Evertons and Family Tree Magazine. Ancestry Library Edition and Heritage Quest are available for patron use.

Indexes include: an obituary index and an online subject index for newspaper clippings.

Coming soon is a name index for newspaper clippings and the scrapbook collection. The library also has a new Digital Microfilm viewer.

Marcia McCrary talked about the Ypsilanti Archives, which is located at 220 North Huron Street in Ypsilanti, just south of Cross Street, in the basement of the Ypsilanti Historical Museum. Both the Museum and the Archives are run by the Ypsilanti Historical Society, and both are open from 2 until 5 P.M., Tuesday through Sunday. A wheelchair lift will be in place soon, making the Archives handicap accessible.

There is a reading room, with a sign-in sheet just inside the door. On each table are notebooks with the various collections listed. The collections include atlases, family bibles, Black history, businesses, cemetery information, church records, Civil War letters, directories, family files, Gleanings (the Ypsilanti Historical Society publication), address file of houses and businesses, obituary files, schools, yearbooks, and maps. Patrons complete a request form for records, and the staff brings the items out for use.

One of the most useful collections for genealogists is the obituary file. Cards contain information such as name, dates, spouse, children, comments, burial, locations and sources. There is county-wide coverage, although the primary focus is Ypsilanti.

The family file contains articles, letters and photographs donated by local families.

The Museum phone number is 734-484-0080, and the Archives phone number is 734-217-8236. The Archivist can be reached at gerrypety@yahoo.com. The website, found at ypsilantihistoricalsociety.org, provides a table of contents for past Gleanings issues, and also has a file of scanned photos and is keyword searchable. Many more photographs are in the works; and when completed, approximately 5,000 will be available.

The Ypsilanti Archives is an invaluable resource for anyone working on families in Washtenaw County. - Marcia McCrary

At the April 27, 2008, meeting, Grace Shackman spoke about the Germans in Ann Arbor. Grace is a well known author and researcher in the Ann Arbor area, and has written several local history books.

The Germans were a group with enormous influence in Washtenaw County; even now they form the second largest ethnic group. The first wave came to Ann Arbor in 1824; the second wave was about 1829, utilizing the Erie Canal. The first German settler here was Conrad Bissinger, who arrived in 1825. He was a baker, and left after a year, going to Charleston, North Carolina, returning in 1831. Daniel Allmendinger arrived in 1829, and stayed. His farm is now the area of the Westgate Shopping Center. The Mann family came soon after. Other names mentioned were Mack, Bach, Kuhn, Staebler, Rominger, Schlanderer, Metzger, Kemp, and Otto. Grace showed pictures from Tubingen, Ann Arbor's sister city, located in Baden-Wurttemberg, Germany with some of the same names showing up there.

Most who arrived were middle class. You had to have some money to travel, but be dissatisfied with your prospects at home. Many had trades, but at first all were farmers just to survive. Pastor Schmid came from Basle, Switzerland, and grew up in Waldorf. He first was called to Scio, and then founded at least twenty churches all over southeast Michigan. The Germans settled on the west side of Ann Arbor, and succeeding waves settled further and further west. In 1845, the Bethlehem church was located at Washington and First, and is now a parking lot. Zion's roots are here, too.

The class after was a continuation of the discussion by local librarians talking about the genealogy resources at their libraries.

Martha Churchill, GSWC member, talked about the Milan Library, which is located at 151 Wabash in Milan, and is open Monday through Thursday from 10 A.M. until 8 P.M., Friday from 10 A.M. until 6 P.M., and Saturday from 10 A.M. until 4 P.M. You can reach them by phone at 734-439-1240 or on the web at www.milanlibrary.org/. Martha made all of us want to have relatives in the Milan area so we could use their facilities! She writes a historical column for the Milan paper.

The kinds of materials you can expect to find there are a clippings file, obituaries, Monroe County marriage and birth records, "Memories of Milan," church histories, Milan School year books, census records, "Aid to Genealogists" (clippings), family histories, Bible transcriptions, historic photos, and cemetery records. Millard Phillips, another GSWC member, has indexed the historic photos, Milan school yearbooks, and "Memories of Milan."

Sandy Roth, the reference librarian at the Saline District Library, talked about their facility, which is located at 555 North Maple Road, Saline. There is a new Local History Room in the recently remodeled and enlarged building. The library has subscriptions to Ancestry Library Edition (no home access), New England Ancestors, and Heritage Quest Online. There is microfilm of the Saline Reporter newspaper 1874 to present, however it is not indexed. The library subscribes to Everton's Genealogical Helper, Family Chronicle, Family Tree Magazine, Internet Genealogy, and NEHGS Register. Links to popular data bases are on their web site at www.saline.lib.mi.us. They offer genealogy classes, family histories of some of the local families, military histories, and cemetery sources.

Paula Drummond led us through the Ypsilanti District Library's main holdings of genealogical interest. The library is located on Whitaker Road and their website, which lists upcoming classes, is www.ypsilibrary.org. They have a Veteran's History Project with recordings of Veterans. Newspapers are of special interest, as well as an indexed collection on businesses in Ypsilanti. There are books on how to do genealogy and other materials available from interlibrary loan. They provide access to Ancestry and Heritage Quest, and WorldCat.

Paul McCann talked about the Dexter District Library, which is located at 8040 Fourth Street, Dexter. They can be reached at 734-426-4477, or on the web at www.Dexter.lib.mi.us. They have a collection of genealogy books which have been donated and access to Heritage Quest. The library staff works with the Dexter Area Historical Society to provide genealogy assistance to interested parties. The library is open 58 hours a week, Monday through Saturday. The Dexter Leader to 1968 is available on microfilm, and on hard copy after that date. There is a high school yearbook collection, and a few Ann Arbor and county histories and plat maps plus other materials. They work best in a one-on-one situation, and are happy to work with you on your interests. More will be available in October when the library moves into their new building. – Marcia McCrary

HANDY WEBSITES AND OTHER TIPS

An Italian genealogy group based in New York City has a free vital records index on their website, www.italiangen.org. It is for all persons not just Italians. It looks like you need to donate at first glance, but at the bottom of the page one can continue to browse for free. Maggie Timoszyk

FamilySearch has announced the release of two new free research tools that will help those with British and Scottish roots to find their ancestors. The research guides, Finding Records of Your Ancestors, England, and Finding Records of Your Ancestors, Scotland can be printed, downloaded, or viewed at FamilySearch.org.

Library of Michigan - The Michigan death records, 1897 to 1920, microfilm set was sent off-site in May for digitization, which will take several months. The digitized death records will be loaded into a free database that will be indexed and easily searchable. Users from across the country will be able to access the database and download death records from the comfort of their home computer.

SEMINARS AND WORKSHOPS

July 25-26, 2008 – Lansing, Michigan, Abrams Genealogy Seminar at the Library of Michigan co-sponsored by the Ingham County Genealogical Society Open to the public. Registration is required. Keynote speaker is Dr. George K. Schweitzer. For complete information and a schedule visit the Library of Michigan website www.michigan.gov/hal.

November 1, 2008 – Grand Rapids, Michigan, Western Michigan Genealogical Society will hold their first annual Fall Seminar. Go to wmgs.org for more information.

GERMAN CITIZENS OF MICHIGAN PETITION FOR A GERMAN CONSULATE IN ANN ARBOR, MICHIGAN, 1856

John H. Schmale, Ann Arbor, Michigan, and Rob Steward, Saline, Michigan

From: Alle Rechte beim Hauptstaatsarchiv Stuttgart – Veröffentlichung, Vervielfältigung, Weitergabe nur mit Genehmigung – Bestand: E 73 Verz. 62 Bis 3 (A photocopy of this document was received by Rob Steward from Wayne Willeke in 1995).

The document was handwritten in German and was translated by John H. Schmale. The list of signatures with towns of origin was transcribed by Rob Steward. Spellings for signatures and towns of origin were left as they appear in the original. Items in parenthesis are notes added by the transcriber and not part of the original. Four hyphens indicate no information was present. Underscored items indicate that information was present but was not clear enough on the copy to decipher.

The following translated document was written in German in 1856 to the King of Wuerttemberg by settlers from Wuerttemberg in the Ann Arbor area. It was a request for a Consulate of Wuerttemberg in Ann Arbor. Eight years later, in 1864, the request for a Wuerttemberg Consulate was granted. The former Kingdom of Wuerttemberg is now part of the State of Baden-Wuerttemberg in southwestern Germany.

(1856 Wuerttemberg Consulate Request Document)

Request of the German citizens of the State of Michigan of the United States for the establishment of a Consulate for this State in the City of Ann Arbor.
Ann Arbor, August 1, 1856.

Your Royal Majesty,

The care which the government of Your Royal majesty has encouraged for those who have left our homeland to live and work in the United States of America for a short time or a long time, and the bonds which exist between many of these people and their relatives in our homeland, cause the people who respectfully signed below to present this request that there might be in the city here our own Royal Consulate for the State of Michigan.
As important reasons for which we allow ourselves to respectfully recommend the City of Ann Arbor as the site for a Consulate, we list the following:
Among the German settlements in the State of Michigan, Württemberg is the most strongly represented; and the German population of the county here (Washtenaw) is almost entirely made up of Württemgbergers.
The Ann Arbor settlement is the first and the most significant in the state.
Ann Arbor is at the midpoint between other important settlements, such as Lansing, Shilwapee, Saginaw, Chipawaing, Detroit, Toledo, Adrian, Monroe, Bridgewater, Waterloo, etc.
Ann Arbor has fine train and telegraph connections with Detroit, the first commercial city in the state, where the North German element is the most significant.
Ann Arbor is at the midpoint between Lansing (Lansing is the site of the government) and Detroit.
For the following reasons we most respectfully would like to recommend to Your Royal Majesty our fellow citizen, the merchant August Widenmann from Stuttgart for Consul:
He has a business, established here several years ago, which flourishes with many contacts with the large commercial cities of Europe and America; and he enjoys a very large circle of acquaintances in the German population of the state.
While we respectfully await the wise decision of Your Majesty's government in this matter, we remain most obedient and with deepest respect for Your Royal Majesty.

(The letter is followed by 142 signatures of those requesting the consulate with their town of origin)

JOHN GREEN OF NEW JERSEY, NEW YORK AND WASHTENAW COUNTY, MICHIGAN AND HIS DESCENDANTS

Researched by Mary Lou Duncan, Grosse Pointe Shores, Michigan

115. Frank Erastus GREEN[E] was born 25 March 1889 in Wheatland, Yuba County, California.[173] There is a listing in the California Death Index, 1940-1997, for a Frank Hilton Greene, died 12 September 1959, Los Angeles County, California. The birth date given for him was 25 March 1899, birthplace California, mother's maiden name Perry. This is probably Frank Erastus, with a changed middle name. Frank was living in Biggs, California, in 1917 and stated on his World War I draft registration card that he had a wife and one child. He said that he was a newspaper man and had completed two years at the University of California. In answer to the question, "What military service have you had? Rank" he wrote "Private." In 1920 he was living with his wife Georgia, and five year old daughter Frances, in the household of his mother in Butte County, California. A biographical sketch of Frank Greene in the History of Butte County[174] stated that he moved to Honcut, Butte County, as a child with his family and graduated from Gridley High School. He graduated from the University of California in 1915 and returned to Butte County where he became the owner of the "Biggs Blade" and "Paradise Advance" newspapers. Frank [later called Hilton] married Georgia BODETTE in Berkeley, Oakland County, California. They had four children. Frank later married Virginia KIRSHNER [KERSHNER], by whom he had two children.[175]

116. Hugh Samuel GREEN[E] was born 18 December 1890 in Wheatland, Yuba County, California.[176] The 1900 census of Honcut, Butte County, California, enumeration district 16, sheet 17B of the family of Adelbert Green listed the birth month and year of Hugh as April 1891. His World War I draft card stated that he had red hair and was single. He obtained a marriage license in Butte County, 12 April 1918, to marry Katherine Emilia OSBORN.[177] Both were residents of Gridley, Butte County. The California birth index on Ancestry.com listed two daughters whose father was named Greene and mother's maiden surname was Osborn.

117. Mary E. GREEN was born about January 1893 in California.[178] Robert Frank PERKINS and Mary obtained a marriage license 29 April 1911 in Butte County, California. He was then a resident of Biggs, Butte County, age 29, and she was from Gridley, Butte County.[179]

118. Ernest Perry GREEN[E] was born 30 August 1895 in Reeds Station, California,[180] and died 1 February 1947 in Butte County, California.[181] He was buried in Gridley-Biggs Cemetery, Butte County, 4 February 1947.[182] Ernest obtained a license in Butte County 11 June 1921 to marry Nellie Edith WILSON, age 24, of Chico, California. He was living in Honcut, Butte County.[183] They were the parents of two boys and two girls by the time of the 1930 census.

On 2 October 1926, he married Adelaide Augusta May WILLARD, in Seattle. She was born 5 July 1904 in Seattle, and died 29 December 1987 in Seattle. Lawrence lived in Port Blakeley, Bremerton and Seattle, all in the state of Washington. He grew up in Winslow, Bainbridge Island, Washington, where he graduated from high school. He was a veteran of World War I and was a member of Peace Lutheran Church. He was a retired operating engineer at the Puget Sound Naval Shipyard, Bremerton.[188] Lawrence's birth date was given as 5 July 1896 on his World War I draft registration card with his residence as Port Blakely and his birthplace as Seattle. His trade at that time was a ship fitter working at Winslow Ship Building Company, Winslow. Lawrence and his wife had one son.

124. Emma Lucinda GREEN was born 10 October 1898 in Port Blakeley, Kitsap County, Washington, and died 27 June 1963 in Phoenix, Maricopa County, Arizona. Emma's body was cremated. The remains are in Forest Lawn Cemetery, Bremerton, Kitsap County. On 9 October 1918 she married William Arthur SILVEN, son of John Aldrich SILVEN and Sanna HENRIKKE, in Port Blakeley. William was born 10 October 1894 in Port Madison, Kitsap County, and died 2 July 1984 in Phoenix, Arizona.[189] Port Madison was on Bainbridge Island. The body was cremated and remains taken to Forest Lawn Cemetery, Bremerton. William listed his birth date as 1 October 1894 on his World War I draft registration card, signed 31 August 1917. His occupation was listed as fisherman at Tec or Tee Harbor, Alaska, working for a packing company of the same name. He was single. The card stated that William had enlisted in the Coast Guard Artillery Corps, 16th Company, Fort Ward, Washington, on November 10, 1917. At the top of the card appears to be written, "Enlisted 1/9/18". Emma and William had two children.

125. Lillian Muriel GREEN was born 28 March 1901 in Port Blakeley, Kitsap County, Washington, and

The Name Index to Family History Capers Volume31 (2007-2008) is an every-name index. Cross-references have been made for some possible variations in surname spellings. Maiden names, where known, are indexed. A married female with an unknown given name may appear as Jones, ... (...) OR Jones, Mrs. An unknown given name is indicated by ... and an unknown maiden name is recorded as (...). An illegible part of a word is recorded as ---. A name may appear more than once on a page.

Family History Capers is published quarterly by The Genealogical Society of Washtenaw County, Michigan, and is available with membership. Memberships begin with the fiscal year on July 1.
